Message

From the Dean

The City University of Michigan is a pioneer in the field of academic and intellectual research. A community of scholars and students is formed by those who come here to study, conduct research, teach, or work. Bridging the gaps across various academic subjects helps scholars create opportunities, solve issues, and explore areas of interest for discovery.

As our aim that is “not here to simply learn but to have a life too” most significant characteristic that differentiates us. CUMI providing students access to the greatest programs that will equip them for ground-breaking discoveries and professional advancement.
